

From the Editors

This issue of The Victorian Naturalist offers variety in focus, including both terrestrial and aquatic vertebrates, as well as a paper on flora. In addition, two of these articles take in historical aspects of their subjects. To this extent, the issue might be seen as exemplifying one of the strengths of this journal — its preparedness to cross disciplinary boundaries where appropriate. Such inclusiveness has long been a feature of the journal, and one which is encouraged by its editors.

The Editors offer their sincere apologies to Ed Grey, long time FNCV member and former Editor of this journal, for inadvertently changing his name, in the Table of Contents of the June 2012 issue.
